Legislative Update and Industry Market Forecast

Plan on joining us for the kick-off meeting of the Indiana/Southern Ohio Chapter's 2010-2011 program year. Omar Nashashibi of The Franklin Partnership, and Rick Kline, Sr., CEO for Gardner Publications, and, will be the featured speakers for an afternoon meeting at Gardner's facility in Cincinnati, Ohio.

Omar Nashashibi, a founding partner in the Washington-based lobbying firm, The Franklin Partnership, LLP (PMPA's retained lobbyist) will address the upcoming mid-term elections focusing on key Senate and House races and what we can expect in the next Congress. He'll also address the aggressive agenda the Democratic-led Congress could potentially undertake, if they become a lame duck legislative body, and what impact that could have on our businesses and personal lives.

Omar will also provide an update on the legislative priorities of the Association and how you're being represented in Washington, D.C. by the Franklin Partnership. This will be an interactive presentation and discussion, so bring your questions for Omar and get the answers from PMPA's Capitol Hill representative.

Rick Kline, CEO of Gardner Publications, has seen profound changes in the manufacturing industry in his nearly five decades of service to the manufacturing industry. Rick has been with Gardner since 1963, and, in addition to the many roles he has assumed within the company and the many professional relationships he has developed across the country and around the world in those years, he has gained keen insight into the pulse of the metalworking industry. Rick shares with us that insight as well as the direction of the industry in his market forecast report.

Who Should Attend: This will be an information-packed event! The meeting will be of particular interest to your upper management team, HR and personnel departments. Plan on attending this meeting to get the most up-to-date info on both the industry and the political scene.

To Register: Complete and forward the reservation form by September 24th to Michael Mulligan, New Dimension Metals Corporation, 3050 Dryden Road, Dayton, OH 45439.
