• All members will ensure that marketing collateral (digital or printed matter) for their business is produced in accordance to the following criteria:
  o Materials (in text, graphic, audio or streaming media formats) must not violate the intellectual property rights of another party.
  o Materials (in text, graphic, audio or streaming media formats) must not promote illegal activities or provide information about illegal activities that is suggestive, influential or instructional.

  o PMPA meetings, conferences, listerves and other networking opportunities are educational events - not opportunities to recruit other members’ employees.
  o Entertainment, such as hospitality suites shall be in a group form only and shall include all persons attending the meeting. Such entertainment must be included in the printed program of the meeting.
  o Members shall not schedule activities or events during a PMPA function, which would interfere or conflict with participation in the PMPA’s scheduled program. To avoid any possible conflict, the member shall clear the event with PMPA staff in advance of its scheduling.

• PMPA reserves the right to terminate the membership of those who do not abide by the Code of Regulations and these Membership Guidelines.
ANTITRUST COMPLIANCE

Active participation is an important aspect of membership in PMPA. Participation adds to the vitality and energy of the organization and furthers PMPA’s vision of improving the competitiveness of the precision machined products industry. In fostering opportunities for members to participate in its programs and committees, PMPA maintains a policy of full compliance with all laws regulating trade association activities.

Of particular importance to PMPA’s activities and the benefits of participation of its members are federal and state antitrust laws that make unlawful every contract, combination or conspiracy in restraint of trade. Generally speaking, these laws prohibit any agreement, whether or not written, among competitors whose purpose or effect is to reduce competition between or among them. Violation of the antitrust laws may result in substantial civil and criminal liability.

Historically, the most significant areas of antitrust concerns for associations have been price fixing and customer or market allocation. “Price fixing” is a very broad term that includes any concerted effort or action with the purpose or intended effect of limiting competition on the basis of prices or any other terms or conditions of sale. “Market or customer allocation” broadly includes any agreement or understanding to refrain from competing for customers. PMPA meetings will not include discussions of pricing. It is important to note that the mere agreement to do any of these things is itself illegal. Once a prohibited agreement is made, the law has been violated even if no other action is taken in furtherance of the agreement.

In keeping with PMPA’s compliance with antitrust laws, association meetings and discussions are structured to focus, in general, on industry promotion, industry issues, industry development and relevant technical issues. Discussions are focused on matters concerning production machinery developments, product historical market data on a general (i.e., non-specific company) basis, and industry-wide regulatory or legal issues such as product liability, legal standards and government policies.

In our ongoing compliance with antitrust laws, we remind PMPA members, as well as non-members who participate in PMPA activities, to refrain from any discussion that may provide the basis for an inference that they agreed to take any action relating to customer pricing, services, production, allocation of markets or any other matter having an anticompetitive market effect. We remind PMPA members and non-members participating in PMPA events to be sensitive to other matters that may raise particular antitrust concerns.

The following are guidelines participants should follow at PMPA meetings and related informal gatherings:

- DON’T discuss your own or competitors’ actual past or present or future or planned prices or fees for service including costs, discounts, terms of sale, profit margins or future marketing plans.
- DON’T discuss plans or intentions to sell or not to sell products or services to any customer or within market segments or territories.
- DON’T stay at a meeting where any such price talk occurs – state why you are leaving.
- DON’T make public announcements or statements about your own prices or fees, or those of competitors, at any PMPA meeting.
- DON’T talk about individual companies plan to do in particular geographic or product markets or with particular customers.
- DON’T speak or act on behalf of PMPA unless specifically authorized to do so.
- DO alert PMPA staff to any sensitivity in proposed statements to be made by PMPA or any of its committees.
- DO consult with your own legal counsel or PMPA staff before raising any matter or making any statement that you think may involve competitively sensitive information.
- DO be alert to improper activities, and don’t participate if you think something is improper.

Adherence to these guidelines involves not only avoidance of antitrust violations, but avoidance of behavior which might be so construed. Bear in mind that the antitrust laws are stated in general terms, and that these guidelines only provide an overview of prohibited actions. If you have specific questions, seek guidance from your own legal counsel or from PMPA staff.
